Instructions for authors

1. General guidelines

- Expected format: docx/doc/odt AND pdf
- The total length of research papers must be between 40,000 and 80,000 characters, including spaces (reviews may be shorter).
- The article should include a summary in French and English of approximately 2000 signs, as well as 3 to 5 keywords.
- The first submission must be anonymous. The name, affiliation, and email address of each contributor should be provided in a separate document. This information should appear under the title in the final version.
- Provide the necessary authorizations for any use of copyright-protected material (document available for download on the website).
- Only minimal corrections should be made to proofs, and these should concern typographical errors only

2. Text format

- Paper size: A4
- Font size: 12pt
- Margins: 2.5 cm. Please note, however, that the final size of the text block will be 12cm maximum, equivalent to an A4 page with 4.5cm margins.
- Text must be justified.
- Text must be in black only. The use of colour is prohibited in the main body of the text, but is permitted in tables and figures.

3. Use of typographical signs

- Italics: for metalinguistically used words (e.g., cat is a noun) and book titles only.
- Double quotation marks (“ ”): for quotations and for indicating distance from a term or expression (i.e., scare quotes).
- Single quotation marks (‘ ’): for quotation marks within quotations or for glosses and semantic paraphrases.
- Avoid bold and underlining as much as possible (they are only possible in the examples, to highlight certain language facts)

4. Hierarchy of titles

- Each section heading and subheading must be numbered, but without automatic formatting or automatic numbering. The introduction is section 1.
- Use decimal numbering (1., 1.1., 1.1.1., 1.2., 1.2.1., etc.) and avoid subdivisions of more than four levels.
- Capitalize only the first word of a section heading.

5. Quotations

- Short quotations (less than 40 words) should be included within the text and surrounded by double quotation marks (“ ”). Single quotation marks (‘ ’) should be used for quotations inside short quotations.
- Long quotations should be presented as a separate paragraph, indented on the left, in 10-point font, without quotation marks, and followed by the source (author, date, p. XX). Double quotation marks (“ ”) should be used for quotations inside long quotation.
- For any quotation in a language other than English, please provide a translation in a footnote.

6. Footnotes

Footnotes, in 10-point type, are placed at the bottom of the page.
Footnote references are placed after any punctuation mark.

7. Examples, tables and figures

Examples, tables, and figures should be set in 10-point font, numbered manually (not automatically), and should not exceed 12 cm in width.

(1) Example

(2) a. Sub-example
b. Sub-example

Linguistic examples with glossing and/or translation should follow the rules set out in the Leipzig Glossing Rules: https://www.eva.mpg.de/lingua/pdf/Glossing-Rules.pdf

Align the glosses using a table, as illustrated below:

(3) Halkomelem Salish (Wiltschko 2006: 202)

qwél-em	te	Strang	te	sth’oquwi
barbecue-INTR	DET	Strang	DET	fish

‘Strang barbecues the fish’

References to examples in the text should have the form: (1), (2b), etc.

Tables, figures and graphs must be numbered and have a title: number and title must be indicated below the table/figure or graph as follows: Table/Figure 1. Title.

In addition, all tables, graphs and figures must be submitted as separate files in jpeg or png format.

8. References citation

8.1. References in brackets

- One author: (Corbin, 1987)
- Two authors: (Hopper & Traugott, 1993)
- More than two authors: quote all names in the first citation (Anscombre, Donaire & Haillet, 2018), and then abbreviate with "et al." (without italics) from the second reference onward: (Anscombre et al., 2018)
- Several quotations from the same author: (Stalnaker, 1999, 2003)
- Several quotations from the same author in the same year: (Vigier, 1995a, 1995b)
- Several sources cited simultaneously: (Zamparelli, 2000; Rijkhoff, 2002)
- Quoting an entire chapter: (Auer, 2007, Chap. 3)
- Reeditions: (Sperber & Wilson, 1995 [1989])
- Pages references: (Dostie, 2013, p. 200) or (Dostie, 2013, pp. 200-245)
- Please, do not use op.cit., loc. cit. or ibid., but always mention the full name of the author and the date of publication.

8.2. Author(s) mentioned within the text

- One author: e.g. "Recently, Dostie (2003) has shown that..."
- Two authors: please use the conjunction and (not &): e.g. "Flaux and Van de Velde (2000) stated that..."

8.3. References to web pages

References are presented in the same way as other types of documents, i.e., author and year in brackets:

- The "author" is not a person: (APA guide, 2017)
- There is no date: the reference is in English (Textometry, n.d.), or in French (TLFi, s.d.)

Website as a whole: The data were collected from ENCOW16 (http://corporafromtheweb.org/encow16/), an English Web corpus…

9. List of References

- The reference list follows the APA style.
- English-language articles should follow the English APA style, and French-language articles the French APA style.
- All works cited within the text should appear in the list of references.
- References to several works by the same author should be listed in chronological order, with the oldest publication appearing first.
- The scientific editor should be mentioned as follows:
    - (Ed.) for the edition of a book by a single author;
    - (Eds.) for the edition of a book by several authors.
- For online publications, please give the date of last access only if the source is liable to change over time (e.g. a Wikipedia article or similar source, a page on an institutional or personal website).
- For other types of online publications (articles, book chapters, etc.), add the DOI or a link to the PDF.
